Curriculum vitae

Prof. Dr. Murat Volkan Dülger was born in 1975 in Beşiktaş, Istanbul. After completing his primary and secondary education in İzmir and Istanbul, he entered Istanbul University Faculty of Law in 1996 and graduated in 2000. At the Istanbul University Institute of Social Sciences, he received his master's degree in 2004 with a study on Information Technology Crimes in Turkish Criminal Law (Türk Ceza Hukukunda Bilişim Suçları) and his doctorate in law in 2010 with a thesis on Offences and Sanctions Relating to the Laundering of Proceeds of Crime (Suçtan Kaynaklanan Malvarlığı Değerlerinin Aklanmasına İlişkin Suçlar ve Yaptırımlar). He became an associate professor of Criminal and Criminal Procedure Law in 2016 with his work The Exclusionary Rule and the Distant Effect of Illegally Obtained Evidence in Criminal Procedure Law – Fruit of the Poisonous Tree Doctrine (Ceza Muhakemesi Hukukunda Dışlama Kuralı ve Hukuka Aykırı Delillerin Uzak Etkisi – Zehirli Ağacın Meyvesi Öğretisi), and was promoted to full professor in 2021.

He is currently a faculty member in Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure Law and IT Law at Istanbul Aydın University Faculty of Law. His work focuses on criminal law, criminal procedure law, philosophy of criminal law, IT law, personal data protection law, money laundering, artificial intelligence law and human rights law.

A long-standing member of the Istanbul Bar Association IT Law Commission, he served one term as its vice-chair and two terms as its chair. He has taken part as an expert in various joint projects of the European Union and the Council of Europe, in the Information Society Strategy study conducted by the Information Society Department of the Ministry of Development, and in various law-drafting and law-amendment commissions established by the Directorate General for Laws of the Ministry of Justice. He was a member of the Information Technologies and Telecommunications Working Group of the Turkish Industry and Business Association (TÜSİAD) and chaired its IT Law sub-working group.

He has taught criminal procedure law, IT law and illegally obtained evidence in the Istanbul Bar Association's criminal defence (CMK) training programmes and at its Internship Training Centre, and has taken part as an instructor in numerous training and certification programmes and as a speaker at many conferences, panels and symposia. His study Freedom of Expression in the European Convention on Human Rights (Avrupa İnsan Hakları Sözleşmesi'nde Düşünce Özgürlüğü) received the second prize in the Kapani-Savcı Human Rights Study Award competition organised by the Aybay Law Research Foundation in 2002.

He is the author of ten books, most notably Criminal Law: General Part (Ceza Hukuku Genel Hükümler), Criminal Procedure Law (Ceza Muhakemesi Hukuku), Personal Data Protection Law (Kişisel Verilerin Korunması Hukuku), Cybercrime and Internet Communication Law (Bilişim Suçları ve İnternet İletişim Hukuku) and Offences and Sanctions Relating to the Laundering of Proceeds of Crime (Suç Gelirlerinin Aklanmasına İlişkin Suçlar ve Yaptırımlar), as well as three legislation compilations and numerous articles. He has been a lawyer registered with the Istanbul Bar Association since 2001 and practises at Dülger Law Office, which he founded.
